

The Real Cause of Most Bad Complexions

It is a stern fact that no truly beautiful complexion ever came out of jars or bottles, and the longer one uses cosmetics the worse the complexion must become. Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must excrete through the pores, its share of the body's effete material. Creams and powders close the pores, impeding both excretion and elimination and breathing. If more women understood this, there would be fewer self-caused complexions. If they used up their money on cosmetics instead of cosmetics, they would have natural, healthy complexions. This remarkable substance actually absorbs a bad skin, and strengthens the skin so that the natural processes under-skin is permitted to breathe and to show itself. An exquisite new complexion gradually preps one free from any appearance of artificiality. Use a little bit of mercerized wax at your druggist's and try it. Apply lightly like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings and evenings with water. A most exquisitely effective treatment which also acts naturally and harmlessly! Dissolve 1 oz powdered masticate in ½ pt. water and use as a wash.

PLEAS ARE MADE TO ADMIT MYLIUS

Young Englishman Accused of Libeling King of England Held at Island.

NAGEL HEARS ARGUMENT

Publisher of Paris Liberator Here and Tells of Regard for Detained Man.

Strong representations were made to Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel yesterday afternoon in behalf of Edward F. Mylius, the young Englishman detained at Ellis Island because he immigrated officials because he is alleged to have libeled King George V in a newspaper he edited.

Mylius is said that his malice had contracted a matrimonial marriage with Miss Mary Elizabeth Culme-Seymour, daughter of Admiral Seymour, of the British Navy.

Young Mylius' friend and fellow-countryman, Edward Holtom James, with Simon O. Pollock, a lawyer, came from New York and remonstrated in view of certain Nazi's statements that Mylius was an Englishman rather than one involving moral turpitude.

Mr. James, who is about thirty-five years old, is a nephew of the late Henry James novelist. He is clean-shaven and dapper, with a frank, open manner, although an American.

"I am the author of the alleged libel against King George V and the charge to his marriage to Miss Seymour was made by me only after a careful and painstaking investigation," he said. "I believed that the statement concerning the King's marriage to Miss Seymour was untrue and I hastened to apologize to King George and Capt. Napier, Miss Seymour's present husband."

"Statements identical with those published in the Liberator, alleged to have been written by Mr. Mylius, had been printed in England in many papers," he said.

"Then," Mr. James was asked, "was Mylius acting merely as your agent in England in making the statement?"

"No, sir, my agent," replied Mr. James, with some spirit. "He was my comrade, believing, as I do, in a popular form of government."

Mr. James is publisher of the Liberator, a newspaper in Paris. The alleged libel on King Edward was written by Mr. Mylius in England, but was printed in Paris.

The libel, which is alleged to have been committed, said that about 1890, while an officer in the British navy stationed at Malta, King Edward married Miss Seymour.

When it became evident that the King who was then Prince of Wales, would become King, the marriage was annulled at the instigation of Queen Victoria, his grandmother, and the English government.

The marriage resulted in the birth of several children, the older stated. After the annulment, the King was married to the present Queen.

Mr. James returned to New York last night. He will pay a short visit to his mother in Concord, N. H., and then return to Paris. Secretary Nagel has the entire matter under consideration, and will make a decision in a short while. Mylius has been at Ellis Island for two weeks.

WILSON'S STENOGRAFHER, MAD AT BEING "BOSSED," TEARS UP NOTES; QUITTS

TEARS UP NOTES; QUITTS

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 14.—Miss Salome Wilson, one of the best of President-elect Wilson's stenographers, quit her job late this afternoon because, she says, Corley Swem, who is the President-elect's personal stenographer, tried to "boss" her. Miss Wilson had just finished taking dictation in the State house from Joseph Tumulty, the Governor's secretary, and had gone across town to see the President-elect's personal headquarters to record his notes, when Swem, who is only nineteen years old, bid her "good-bye," she said. It is understood there has been some jealousy between Swem and Wilson.
